

Joleen Kinakin

As a natural “builder and connector,” Joleen Kinakin has strived to bring lasting and positive impacts to support people, strengthen businesses and build community. Joleen and her family are longtime residents of Castlegar and together have volunteered countless hours to support the works within their community and region. Joleen has a strong, entrepreneurial background and has worked over 30 years in the areas of accounting, finance, community relations, and tourism.

Recently, she retired from Selkirk College and now works part time as an Administrator and Bookkeeper. When Joleen is not working, she enjoys spending time at the lake, cheering on her grandchildren at their activities and sporting events, painting, gardening, volunteering at a local community service organization, or enrolling into a new course. She is passionate about continuous learning and possesses a Master’s Degree in Leadership from Royal Roads University.

With over 40 years as a member of Heritage Credit Union, she is committed in providing strategic direction and leadership to best serve the financial service needs of the membership, clients, employees, and the community.
